Pelekikena’s Message:

Aloha Kakou,

We are again at the beginning of a new year, and I am very excited that it will be a different and prosperous one! There are many changes and new events that will be happening, so look for a call to help or if you want, offer first!

As you all know by now, there are changes to the Board, with several new people involved and some of the same ones continuing on.

It’s very exciting to get some new views from our new Board members and also input from continuing members that are back. We are always looking for new thoughts or ideas to help ‘Ainahau be the club we all know it can be.

I hope you all had a wonderful New Year and we all pray that all our members remain Healthy and Happy as 2010 moves forward.

Malama Pono,
Analani Imbach
Pelekikena

Hawaiian Word of the Day

Published with the permission of Liana Iaea Honda he momi e lei ai--a pearl to wear as a lei

Today’s Hawaiian Pearl is: WANA - Sea urchin, sharp pointed, as sea-urchin spines; jagged, sharp, a long spike or streak of light as at dawn; to appear, as a ray of light

Apparently I’m on the ocean theme and thinking about “raw food delicacies” and, of course, this would include wana. Most luau that we attend today may have poke I’a (raw fish) and maybe you can get a couple of ‘opihi and some he’e, but I have yet to see raw wana, which is usually prepared with none other than raw lobster. What an ‘ono combination! I remember watching the divers collect the wana, then bring them up to the sand, cracking them open, holding them very carefully, then taking the insides and putting them in a jar to take home. Once in a while, they would scoop up some tasty tidbits for themselves, still warm, juicy, and salty, then head back into the water again, armed with tabis, gloves, bag and knife. Now when you go walking on the reef and you see a sea urchin in the crevices, usually black or pinkish with dull semi-short spines, that is ‘ina, not wana. Wana is found in deeper water. Usually you need to go diving to get them and their spines are unmistakably SHARP and LONG and SORE LOOKING. Step on wana and you’re sure to feel some pain and see the needles under your skin, broken off from the tips. The surefire way to kill the bacteria? Mimi! Remember that mimi! Yup the cure-all, instant always carry it in your first-aid kit--urine. Don’t ask me the details. I’m not at all sure but back in small-kid time days, I can recall several instances when we were asked to kokua in this respect, and, don’t recall anyone getting infections from wana in their feet. Here are some ‘olelo relating to wana:

Ka wana momona o Mokoli’i - The fat sea urchins of Mokoli’i. (Mokoli’i otherwise known as Chinaman’s Hat, at Kualoa, is known for its fine sea urchins.)
Pala ka hala, momona ka wana - When the pandanus fruit is ripe, the wana is fat. (This was the sign for uplanders that the sea urchins were ready to be gathered.)

Aloha,
Liana K. Iaea Honda

Hope you all enjoyed your laulau even if you could not accompany it with wana. Maybe some poke though! Hauoli Makahiki Hou this 2010! Aloha A Hui Hou! Jackie Judd

NOTE FROM THE EDITOR

Aloha Mai Kakou!

It is a new year and I’m excited about this very new challenge & experience. Looking forward to serving ‘Ainahau as Correspondence Secretary. A warm Mahalo goes out to Charlene for helping me with my new role and putting together this first newsletter. I have very big shoes to fill and look forward to growing and learning as each month passes of the two years I have been chosen to serve ‘Ainahau O’ Kaleponi Hawaiian Civic Club.

Aloha to All, Maggie Perry-Garcia

Boutique Kokua

Aloha All,
Please join us at our initial Boutique Workshop Meeting to discuss projects to work on and to share ideas for our 2010 Boutique Booth at Ho’olaule’a!

Date: February 27, 2010
Time: 11:00 a.m. To 3:00 p.m.
Place: Brookfield Manor Clubhouse
9850 Garfield, Huntington Beach, CA 92646

Family members and friends are also welcome to bring their ideas and suggestions. We are looking into doing refrigerator door covers and Hawaiian cushion covers for starters—so please bring any Hawaiian material that you have, including scissors, sewing needles, pins, etc. Also please bring a lunch bag/potluck and/or snacks to share. We plan to meet monthly on the last Saturday of each month thru the end of June. Any questions, please contact Maggie Perry-Garcia, Chairperson @ (714) 375 9445 or e-mail: mapg5@msn.com and to advise if attending. Looking forward to another series of memorable boutique workshops! I’ll have my camera!

Aloha, Maggie Perry-Garcia

From Jackie: The Kolohe Luncheon at Incheonwon was just great. A bit expensive from what we are use. However, it is now under new ownership and the food was good and plentiful. Attending were: Uncle Likeke and his care-giver Creselda, Maile Hubbard, Anna Dugan, Rose Burns, Lili Neumann, Lori Carter, Julian and myself. Next month's Kolohe luncheon will be at a bar-b-q place,

President’s Day

President’s Day is a national holiday observed on Monday, February 15, 2010. It honors two Great United States President’s who were born in February…. George Washington who became the first President of our country in 1789. He is known as the Father of our Country; and Abraham Lincoln who became our 16th President in 1861. In 1863 Lincoln signed The Emancipation Proclamation, freeing the slaves.

A President from Hawaii..

Barack Hussein Obama II, born on August 4, 1961 is the 44th and current President of the United States. He is the first African American to hold this office. Obama was born at Kapi’olani Maternal and Gynecological Hospital in Honolulu, Hawaii. He is the first president to have been born in Hawaii. Obama attended Punahou School, a private college preparatory school, from the 5th grade until his graduation from high school in 1979.

Here are a few quotes from President Obama about his experience growing up in Hawaii Nei:

Reflecting later on his formative years in Honolulu, Obama wrote, “The opportunity that Hawaii offered – to experience a variety of cultures in a climate of mutual respect became an integral part of my world view, and a basis for the values that I hold most dear.” “…people ask me, they say, ‘What do you still bring from Hawaii?’……I try to explain to them something about the aloha spirit…and it’s that spirit that I am absolutely convinced is what America is looking for right now.”

To show aloha, you don’t need a flower lei. Let’s spread more aloha across the USA! Imua President Obama!

Aloha, Charlene Kazner

INSTALLATION LUNCHEON

Our officers and directors for the 2010–2011 term were duly installed on Saturday, January 9th at The China Buffet, Inc. in Fullerton. Over 50 members witnessed the installation. It started with the blowing of the pu by Paul Chang, Eric Kaki-hara and Kekoa Cooper followed by the pule by Thomas Kalama and the Doxology led by Maile Hubbard.

Pelekikena, Analani Imbach, recognized and thanked the outgoing officers, directors and Mainland Council representatives for their leadership and dedication for the 2008–2009 term with makana baskets filled with rice, Aloha shoyu, Hawaiian salt and a 2010 Hawaiian calendar. Mike Brito performed the installation of the new officers, directors and Mainland Council reps. Analani then spoke of the challenges ahead and how we, in lokahi, were ready to conquer each one.

An ono luncheon buffet followed, which included chicken, beef, fish, pork, soups, noodles, vegetables, Mongolian beef, pizza, macaroni, desserts and much more. A good time was had by all.

Mahalo to the outgoing leaders and Congratulations to the new leadership team.

A Big Mahalo to Jackie Judd for coordinating the Installation Luncheon. Good Job, Jackie!
THE MOANALUA HIGH SCHOOL BAND CHILI LUNCHEON!

Once again the ladies and one gentleman of ‘Ainahau proved to be great chili makers.

Yes, it was that time again, December 29, 2009, to serve a lunch to a band from Hawai‘i. This time it was the band from Moanalua High School on Oah‘u on their way to the Fiesta Bowl Parade in Glendale, Arizona. The Band and chaperones totaled 233 in all. Kinda small, but still the same amount of work went in to get all the students and adults fed.

The menu consisted of chili, tossed salad, an apple, water and of course the main dish rice. In the dining hall, a really humorous thing happened. After everybody got their lunches, Charlene Kazner announced that anyone desiring “Seconds” could come up and get more food.

Well, there were no takers because the Hawai‘i kids are kinda shy. After a minute, this petite Japanese girl stands up, smiles at everyone, and starts walking toward the serving line. There was this tremendous applause acknowledging her intestinal fortitude. Immediately, the serving line was just filled with students going for seconds and there was a smile on Charlene’s face. What an experience for us, because we all were smiling too!!

Finally, the Band was very appreciated of our gesture. You know, we being strangers to them yet having the kindness to offer all 233 of them a lunch. The Band Director in appreciation, told the students to be sure to thank us. And do you know, all of them came up, shook each of our hands and thanked us! Wow!! Talk about “chicken skin”!! It was to the Max!

It was a great morning and we had a wonderful time. In fact, one ‘Ainahau member told me that she had “kinda” seen her herself in one of the girls she served and brought memories when she was that age.

Aloha, Tom Kakihara

News From the Scholarship Committee

The culture of the land is preserved in its youth

The motto of ‘Ainahau O Kaleponi Hawaiian Civic Club recognizes the importance of our young people as the future torch bearers of our beloved Hawaiian culture. The support of their educations has always been at the forefront of our goals. To ensure that this happens, the Scholarship Committee, as defined in our Policy & Procedures manual has the duty “to review ALL applications and make selections for scholarships/grants awarded by AOKHCC.” This also includes the Mary Ann Cain Kalama fund, established by the family of our late founder, for the purpose of cultural education.

The Scholarship Committee is co-chaired by Maile Hill and Paddy Kakihara. The “voting” members of the Committee are: Carl Bode, Edye Hill, Maile Hubbard, Jackie Judd, Dan Kawakami, Lili Neumann Korionoff, and Mapuana Newcomb. According to our P & P manual, the committee must consist of seven voting members and two alternates (Maile Hill & Paddy). Since members cannot evaluate and vote on the applications of their ‘ohana, then the alternates step in.

Applications for either college or youth scholarships are available from Maile Hill, (mhill2@csulb.edu) either online or by mail. All applications are due (with transcripts) by May 1st! We are very stringent about this deadline. Youth applicants for Kamehameha School’s programs must turn in their applications on May 1st as well. We expect to have all the applications evaluated by the end of May, and will schedule interviews, especially for college applicants, either in person or by telephone, in mid-June. Recipients are presented at the annual Aha’aina, scheduled for August 14th this year. Awards for Youth scholarships will be made as soon as approved by the Membership, but awards for College students are given at the Aha’aina.

Keep in mind that college or vocational school applicants must be full-time students. Youth must make separate application to the Kamehameha Schools program of their choice, and submit their acceptance letter as soon as it is received. Also, youth applicants must be ‘ohana of active members. For the college scholarships, preference is given to active members or their ‘ohana, but anyone may apply. As approved by the membership last year, an active member must have participated in at least two ‘Ainahau events in the past year. Questions? Please contact either Paddy or Maile.
