Message
Charlene Kazner

Aloha mai kakou,
Our Message of Aloha permeated our 30th Annual Scholarship `Aha`aina on August 11th. You all did a fabulous job hosting our `ohana and friends. Congratulations to our Scholarship Awardees....our Native Hawaiian leaders of tomorrow. Congratulations also to our founding members who were honored that evening. Mahalo piha to Paddy Kakihara, chairperson for the `Aha`aina, Kumu Hula Ululani Cortez, Maile Hubbard, hula alaka`i and Eric Kakihara our music director and to all of you for the many hours spent preparing and working on the `Aha`aina. The success of the `Aha`aina is due to all of us working together in lokahi. We truly Alu Like.

The 53rd Association Convention is October 14-21. Please contact Maile Hill at (562) 810-4441 if you are planning to attend the convention or need information. You may also check the Association website at www.aohcc.org. It'll be a very exciting experience.

Mark your calendar for "Movie Night," on September 8th, featuring One Voice...the story of the Kamehameha Schools Song Contest from the eyes of the student song directors. Call Ualani Ho`opai for tickets ($10) (847) 858-3229. Our Pau Hana Bash is on Saturday, October 6th. Join us to celebrate all your hard work for the year.

Mahalo for all you do for our club. I appreciate your time, effort and dedication in practicing and perpetuating our Hawaiian culture.

Me ke aloha, Charlene Kazner

Edye Hill
First Vice-President

Aloha,

Great job everyone one! This year's Aha `aina was so spectacular! You should be really proud of all the hard work and all the hands that went into the decorations, food, music, service, and hula. So many guests were really impressed with the show and delighted by the food. It really warms my heart that the Club can do so much to help all the worthy scholarship recipients.

I want to thank Mike and Lehua for singing beautifully at the last General Meeting. If you are interested in performing a very brief "Sharing Time" presentation during the upcoming General Meetings, please contact me. For Sharing Time, an ohana and/or individual can take a short 5-10 minuets to share a song, a story, or a hula. This is a great opportunity to practice our commitment to education about Hawaiian culture, music and dance and oral history. If you are interested, please let me know by e-mail at geoff_edye@sbcglobal.net. Don't be shy, with our mix of new and old members there is definitely a thirst for this kind of sharing.

Convention is coming up fast upon us and I cannot wait to return to the city where I got by law degree. I personally looking forward to showing my parents and my grammy all the sights. I am also super-excited to meet other civil clubs. I hope you can join our small delegation at National Convention. I hope to see you at the Pau Hana Bash!

Malama pono,
Edye Hill, Hope Pelekikena 'Ekahi

Hawaiian Word of the Day

Published with the permission of Liana laea Honda he momi e lei ai--a pearl to wear as a lei

Today's Hawaiian Pearl is: PU'IPU'I – Plump, Stout, Stocky, Heavy-set, Sturdy, Husky

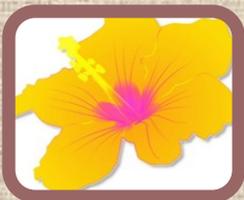

I love the idea that the Hawaiian language has certain words that describe “heavier” set people in a positive light mean in our Western world today. Everything is about being thin. It's a lot of pressure on us women, and I'm sure on you men too. But then I look at Hawaiian words to describe a “heavy-set” person, words like pu'ipu'i and I think, geez, that doesn't sound bad at all. In fact, the sentence given in the dictionary is, “He po'e pu'ipu'i wale no—they were strong, able-bodied people. Being plump, stout, heavy-set is the equivalent of being able-bodied. Now that I can live with! And, pu'ipu'i is not the only such word, there is also poupou, said of one who is short and stocky, stout, thickset. Makes me feel so much better about myself!

Pu'ipu'i a ka lawai'a – Stout fishing lad (Said of an energetic fisherman.) 'Umi was so called because of his skill in fishing.

He kanaka pu'ipu'i 'o ia. – He is a husky man.

Aloha,
Liana laea Honda

Note from the Editor
Maggie Perry

Aloha All, Onward we go. As much fun as Aha 'aina was, I'm sure we are all glad it is behind us holding fond memories. You will enjoy this month's newsletter. Mahalo to our contributors! Lots of great information and it is always a pleasure to learn more in depth about our fellow members in the Member Profile this month it is Jane Pang. Next month will be ERIC KAKIHARA. Try the yummy recipe by Karen Kamakele! Check out the events calendar on page 6—a lot happening in September. Looking forward to seeing you at movie night and also seeing many faces/helpers at the Pacific Island Festival. Not to forget September 30th luau—it should be an awesome experience so don't miss it. If you are going be sure to put 'Ainahau on your check—we will have great seats together. Note placing random pictures throughout newsletter. Enjoy Maggie

My KoAloha Story Experience
August 28, 2012 Grammy
Museum by Ualani Ho'opai

Aloha All! A recent excursion took me and a few AOKHCC friends (Charlene, Ka'ala and Kaiwi Pang, Maile Hill and Maggie) to the LA premiere of “My KoAloha Story.” This documentary about the Okami Ohana of O'ahu was held in the Clive Davis Theatre of the Grammy Museum in downtown Los Angeles, and definitely worth the drive in traffic. We laughed, cried, then laughed again many times over. We also ran into Gene Goto and learned he is the classmate of the KoAloha founder, Alvin “Pops” Okami. Also there was Frances Okura for the ukulele workshop and documentary. Another familiar face was Chuck Maples a member from Aloha Seniors and a familiar face at many 'Ainahau events was also there to support this historical event.

We missed the “Ukulele 101” workshop with six-time Grammy award winner, Daniel Ho, and new KoAloha artist, Jason Arimoto, but made it in the nick of time (literally) to grab the last few seats as the film began. What happened over the next 90-minutes was pure bliss! This little movie is big on heart and depicts how a small family-owned fledgling plastics business accidentally turned into one of Hawaii's most beloved ukulele companies, known worldwide. And wow- talk about the “family that plays together, stays together” concept? For Alvin, Mom aka “Pat,” and sons Alan and Paul, this formula works.

I don't want to give the entire story away as I'm hoping members of KoAloha Ukulele will come and screen the film for our group, possibly as a future fundraiser to raise awareness of AOKHCC. Until then, I can share that “My KoAloha Story” made me a little homesick, but also made me so proud of our culture. And getting the chance to meet the filmmaker, Gary San Angel, Keith Yoshioka (Production Manager from KoAloha), Daniel, and Jason, was the icing on the cake.

I applaud KoAloha Ukulele for sharing such a beautiful and deeply personal story. Ualani

Health Information by Jane Pang

ANN ARBOR, Mich.--- The Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islander Health Disparity & Health Equity Conference at the Westin LAX Airport Hotel in Los Angeles on September 24-25.

The conference features preliminary findings from the Pacific Islander Health Study, the first representative survey to assess physical and mental health and healthcare utilization of a random sample of Pacific Islander adults and adolescents living in California.

"Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islanders are the second fastest growing minority population in the nation," said Sela Panapasa, a researcher at the University of Michigan Institute for Social Research (ISR) and principal investigator of the study. "But they remain understudied and underserved. The goal of this conference is to increase awareness of health disparities affecting this community and to start developing evidence-based interventions that will effectively reduce these disparities and build healthy communities."

Traditionally, Panapasa explained, Pacific Islanders have been combined with the broader "Asian or Pacific Islander" population of the United States, which tends to mask important health problems affecting this group. Since 1997, Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islanders have been treated as a distinct racial category by federal mandate emphasizing the need for these data and creating the opportunity for this scientific study.

Keynote speakers at the conference include Howard Koh, assistant secretary for health for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services; J. Nadine Gracia, deputy assistant secretary for minority health (acting). For more details, contact: Ka`ala Pang, kaiwisplace@yahoo.com

The month of September includes many reminders to be healthy.

It is

National Healthy Aging Month,
National Cholesterol Education Month,
Gynecologic Cancer Awareness month,
Prostate Cancer Awareness Month,
Fruit & Vegetable Month,
Take a Loved One to the Doctor Day,
Women's Health & Fitness Day, and World Heart Day,

to name just a few.

Baked Salmon

1 tray of salmon filet (from Costco)
1/2 to 3/4 cups of Mayonnaise
1/2 tsp Wasabi
2 TBS Capers
1 Lemon or Lime
Pepper to Taste
Furukaki

Wash salmon and set aside to dry. Place in a baking dish (I sometimes cut it up and layer it in the pan). Sprinkle capers on the fish evenly. Squeeze lemon on top. Mix mayo, wasabi and pepper together and spread generously on the fish. Sprinkle with Furukaki. Cover with foil and bake at 350 degrees for about 25 minutes. Remove the foil and let bake for another 10 minutes.

Remove from the oven and let it stand a little while before serving. Enjoy!

AHA 'AINA 2012
REPORT BY PADDY KAKIHARA

August 11, 2012 found nearly every active member of `Ainahau at the Costa Mesa Neighborhood Community Center bright and early. The truck had been partially loaded the night before, and the plants from Village Nursery were picked up that morning. Leialoha and Ricki had washed all the pots, pans, and utensils ahead of time, so we were ready to go!!

Work such as preparing the food, (thanks, Maile, BJ, James, Karen, Kanani, George, Paul, Joe, Tom, Eric, Agnes, Jackie, Ellie) decorating the tables (thanks, Maggie, Gina, Linda and new member Melissa) and stage, (thanks, Lani and Janese) setting up the beautiful serving table (thanks, Hoku and helpers), making lei (thanks, Ua, Pua, and helpers), making won tons, bagging pupu, (thanks, Ke, Carl, Rose & Maureen) setting up the sound system, (thanks Colonel, Mike, Lehua, Eric and John) setting up the opportunity drawing (thanks Joanie and Analani), arranging the scholarship table (thanks, Maile & Jennell), getting the cake ready (thanks, Edye & Joanne) and setting up the scrip table (thanks, Gil), Will Call, (thanks Charlene and Sherry) and of course, the Bar (thanks, Artland, Donald & Bob) was all done in record time!! (and I think that's a record for longest run on sentence ever!!) There are probably many more whose names I have missed, but heartfelt mahalo goes out to you all! Laura, Kealoha, Kahea, Kekoa, Lili, Ricki's 'ohana, Zachary, Jacob, Geoff, Boomie, Craig, George (video guy), Dennis, Mapuana, Lori, Norm, Ruby, Mark—thank you. We even had time for a good run through of our program---something we missed last year.

The evening went so smoothly: the food was ono, the room looked gorgeous, and the dancers and musicians outdid themselves with the program!! Thank you to kumu hula Janice Ululani Cortez and alaka'i Maile Hubbard for the beautiful choreography, and to Eric and the gang for the awesome music to accompany them. And the costumes were such a hit!! To top it off, we were actually ahead of schedule---no Hawaii time for us! "Our Message of Aloha" and the hapa-haole songs made a welcome change for our hapa-haole audience! I think we'll have to keep a couple in the program each year.

Best of all, we did okay financially. With all the effort put forth by all of you, we net approximately $7,500 to use toward our Scholarships!! I am so proud to be a part of such a happy, hard-working group---you are all such a blessing!!! Aloha Paddy (Next month—about scholarship winners.) (Picture compliments of Craig Kakihara—from his slide show e-mailed.)

'AINAHAU AWARDS 2012
By Paddy Kakihara

Member of the Year

Congratulations to Maggie Perry for being selected our Member of the Year for 2012. Because of her tireless efforts on behalf of `Ainahau, Maggie was the unanimous choice to receive this honor!

She has been a member since 2007, and in that short period has served in many capacities: corresponding secretary, newsletter editor, boutique chair, aha`aina table decorations chair, grant writer and co-coordinator of our Community Garden Project, hula dancer, photographer and has worked at nearly every function put on by our Club.

She moved to California after graduating from Leilehua High School, and although her brother Bill was one of the founding members of the Kama`aina Club, she never really got involved in the Hawaiian community. However, since joining `Ainahau, she has been revitalized! "Ainahau has brought me to a greater appreciation for my culture, and I feel the aloha from all the participants!" She has encouraged her `Ohana to participate as well, bringing in her sister, Melia Bressler, and her niece Leialoha McEwan as active members. Mahalo, Maggie, for all you do, you are definitely our Member of the Year 2012!

On another vein, the following were nominated for awards given by the Association of Hawaiian Civic Clubs at their annual Convention. This year, it will be held in Washington D.C. in October, and our nominees will compete with those from other clubs for the honors.

Ka Po`okela Award---Native Hawaiian `Ainahau member for service to the Civic Club: Maggie Perry

Kalaniana'ole Award---Native Hawaiian `Ainahau member for service to the community-at-large: Charlene Kazner

Kulia I Ka Nu'u Award---Native Hawaiian non-Civic Club member for service to the Hawaiian community:

Puanani Jung, kumu hula

Kako'o O Kalaniana'ole Award---Non-Native Hawaiian `Ainahau member for service to the Hawaiian community: Denny Colbert

In addition, Victor Ka'iwi Pang, long time member and steadfast supporter of `Ainahau and the entire Pacific Islander community, will be honored as a respected kupuna with the Kukui Lama Ku award.

Congratulations to all the nominees, and mahalo for your service to `Ainahau!

Both of our last two events due to busy work, event and/or vacation schedules took place on a weekday—August 14 and August 28 and of course the heat wave was on both days—a challenge to our endurance. But we got the work done and we managed to plant orange, yellow and red bell peppers and two types of tomatoes: cherry and beefsteak, crookneck squash, Japanese eggplant, pulled weeds, green onion, basil, beets, cabbage, eggplant and zucchini. Sweet potato vines are looking good but still no sign of potatoes. Kalo is thriving—anyone wanting to make cook luau leaves—let Maile know.

On a separate note, Maile was able to have a beautiful memorial service for Uncle Likeke and mother Hannah at Oahu Cemetery with her family and also joined by the Pangs recently. When pictures become available, I will share with the members—Maggie.
